

Umbria

Orvieto Cathedral

Umbria is known as 'Il cuore verde dell'Italia' (Italy's green heart). Perugia, the region's capital, is one of Italy's best-preserved medieval hill top towns and home of the Etruscan walls, the splendid Palazzo Gallenga, and many other buildings and historic monuments that lead out from the central Piazza IV Novembre. Gubbio, is rich with Franciscan memories and monuments from the medieval and renaissance eras. Many other small towns - Todi, Spello, Spoleto, Orvieto and Citta di Castello - are also magnificently enriched. Finally Assisi, the town where Saint Francis was born, one of the best-known destinations frequented by pilgrims.
